BIG EMPLOYERS WILLING TO HELP HOUSE MOVEMENT

MANUFACTURERS EXPRESS WILLINGNESS TO PUT SHOULDER TO WHEEL IN NEW HOME CAMPAIGN

NEW FAMILIES ARE NEEDED

Hard to Get Men Needed Because New Families Cannot Find a Place to Live in Appleton —One Organization is in Operation

While the homeless have been walking the streets looking for that unknown quantity called an empty house, others have been doing some thinking for themselves. The real estate men have gotten over the thinking stage and are about to step into action. The manufacturers have been weighing the matter and at the invitation of others to get together and consider the problem, they are ready to advance some concrete ideas.

When asked what the manufacturers attitude would probably be on building more houses in Appleton, W. C. Wing, of the Fox River Paper company spoke as follows:

"We don't want to make much of any statement on this matter, because there is really no need for homes among our employes. Our help is pretty well stabilized, and most of our men have been in our employ for from one to 30 years. We feel that we are doing our share by paying the wages.

"There is a reason for the shortage of houses," Mr. Wing added, "and it is found in the present high cost of building. We can't blame anybody for not building when we have to pay $1.25 an hour for labor and with lumber way out of sight. We certainly don't want to do any building either for our men or for our plant until conditions change. I really won't say what we can or will do in the city-wide housing movement until we have studied this thing."

F. J. Harwood of the Appleton Woolen Mills is of the opinion that there is a crying need for houses and that something ought to be done at once, and that he would gladly interest himself in any move to remedy the shortage.

"Our situation is such," Mr. Harwood stated, "that we do not have a call to supply homes for our own employes. They are largely young people who live with their parents, and are thus taken care of. More houses in Appleton would be a good thing for all the manufacturers. A corporation organized to build homes appears, to be a worthy move, and we are willing to do something toward it."

H. G. Saecker, of the Appleton Machine company expressed his views as follows:

"I guess that the housing proposition in Appleton is not very flattering. People are suffering for places to live in. We have already responded to the request of the Building and Loan association to take more stock. All that the business men would have to do would be to take more stock in the association and we could then go right ahead with the building of houses."

"If a housing company is organized here," continued Mr. Saecker, "it will require an organization to run it. Why go to that expense and create such an overhead when we have our building and loan association already organized, incorporated and in the harness ready to take on this work. The money is all handled through the bank, and under state supervision. We need the houses and if Appleton is to grow, we have got to take care of the people that want to live here. With our plan, the people themselves will realize a small dividend, besides being able to build homes and pay for them in monthly installments. We are willing to do our share in any movement to overcome the present shortage of homes, but it seems to me that we ought to do it through the efficient organization we now have."

The economic side of the matter was brought out by R. A. Peterson of the Valley Iron Works, who said, "There is a need for houses, and we certainly would be willing to go into anything that would remedy the situation. We seem to have trouble getting the right kind of men and it may be due to the fact that there are no houses, and the steady workers do not come here to seek employment. It would help us and help Appleton to have something done. The building and loan association would seem to be one solution. We are in favor of any boost given this movement."

Considering that the above statements are from men in several lines of industry, it seems safe to say that there exists a cordial spirit of co-operation between the manufacturers, and that as soon as the movement is headed up and crystallized into action, all of them will stand ready to help Appleton forward.

WILSON WRITES ANOTHER NOTE ON THE ADRIATIC

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington — President Wilson has completed his latest note to the British and French premiers on the Adriatic situation, it was said at the white house.

It remains for the state department to put the communication in diplomatic language, submit it to the president for final approval, and place it on the cables. It is not thought that the note will go forward until tomorrow evening.

No Action On Wage Increase For Teachers

Board of Education Defers Decision on Request for Salary Increases Aggregating 31 Per Cent—Will Meet Again Next Monday

The board of education took no action at its meeting Monday afternoon relative to fixing the salaries of high school teachers for the coming year. It decided to await the action of the district boards at the joint meeting to be held later in the week.

The salary fixing committee recommended to the board the schedule of wages about as it was presented to it by the faculty. It provided for increases ranging all the way from $300 to $600 above the salaries and $100 bonus of this year. The proposed increase boosts the pay of three teachers considerably above the $2,000 per year mark.

Members of the board now have the new schedule under consideration. The increase asked for amounts to a fraction over 31 per cent, which was higher than was anticipated. Rather than act upon the spur of the moment the board deemed it advisable to study the schedule thoroughly and profit by the action of the district boards.

The next meeting of the board will be held next Monday, when it is expected that definite action will be taken. The teachers of the graded schools are also asking for an increase, which the members of the school boards are now considering. Two of the districts granted their teachers a bonus this year of $100 aside from their regular salaries, while the matter is still pending in the other two districts.

The teachers claim that they are justified in asking for the increase of salaries on account of the cost of living which was never higher than at the present time. The cost of obtaining a university training, too, they claim has more than doubled within the last two years. They have no intention of striking for higher wages, as the scarcity of teachers makes it possible for them to accept positions in almost any part of the country at attractive salaries.

The committee on teachers and textbooks reported that an additional half time teacher had been employed for English work after the increased enrollment at the beginning of the second semester and that Miss Adela Klumb had been engaged to do the work.

Miss Laura Bolyard was granted a release to accept a more remunerative position in the Milwaukee schools. Miss Newton of Lawrence college succeeds her. Miss Calla Guyles, Latin teacher, was granted a year's leave of absence.

A quantity of white oak for the manual training department was purchased. Bills amounting to $357 were allowed.

Principal Paul G. W. Keller of the high school was granted a several days' leave of absence to attend the annual meeting of the North Central Association of Schools and Colleges at Chicago which opens Saturday, March 13. The only other Wisconsin representative will be Thomas Lloyd Jones of the Wisconsin university and H. G. Goddard of the state department of schools.

FRENCH RAILROAD STRIKE BROKEN UP BY PUBLIC OPINION

STRIKE FAILED BECAUSE IT DID NOT HAVE THE BACKING OF THE FRENCH PEOPLE

(By Henry Wood)
By United Press Leased Wire

Paris.—Political observers today saw in the collapse of the French railway strike a victory for public opinion, which, they said, has become really a dynamic force in France only since the war.

The strike came to an end late last night when the federation of railway men ordered the men to resume work immediately. In a formal announcement the union said the strike had been ended through intervention by Premier Millerand.

The premier's terms, it was learned today, included:

No payment of wages while the men were out; annulment of charges against dismissed strikers; reconsideration of other penalties inflicted; application of the federation's new wage scale.

Political leaders pointed out today that the strike was doomed from the first, because it did not have either the support of any considerable section of public opinion or the press. Pre-war conditions—when the people of France generally assumed an apathetic attitude toward labor conflicts—are no more, they declared. The war, it was said, has given the French a sense of responsibility and a quickened interest in public affairs which will have a powerful bearing on all labor disputes in the future.

Observers pointed to the failure of the triple international strike last July and the smothering of the radicals in the parliamentary elections as examples of what they called the "new public" of France. When civic and patriotic organizations, with a combined membership far larger than the striking unions, volunteered for service to break the strike, success of the movement was doomed, they said.

A majority of the men were expected to return to work today. Service on all lines should be back to normal by the end of the week, the government believed.

Harry Leonhardt has gone to Milwaukee, where he has accepted a position.

AMERICAN LEGION DEMANDS AID FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

CONGRESS IS WARNED IT MUST NOT ECONOMIZE AT EXPENSE OF WORLD WAR VETERANS

SQUARE DEAL ASKED FOR

Land Settlement, Vocational Training, Home Aid and Adjustment of Compensation Legislation is Legion's Program

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—The American Legion today servide notice on the house ways and means committee that it plans to force immediate action on legislation to aid the ex-service men.

Franklin d'Olier, national commander, and Thomas W. Miller chairman of the legislative committee both declared that the "legion has waited long enough for congress to act."

Congress should not economize at the expense of the service men, both declared.

Three million ex-service men are in need of aid, Miller said and added that most ex-service men would take a bonus in cash or bonds in preference to farm or home loans or vocational education.

"All that the American legion asks is as liberal treatment as is consistent with the welfare of the whole country — legislation that is fair to the ex-service men and at the same time just as fair to the entire nation as well," d'Olier said.

"The overwhelming majority of ex-service men feels strongly that this government owes an obligation to all persons who were handicapped either bodily or financially because of military or naval service during the recent war.

"The American Legion representing over one million exservice men and women spoke very plainly on this point in its national convention last November.

"In accordance with resolutions passed at the national convention of the legion, its national beneficial committee is now ready to submit recommendations for legislation covering four features as follows:

1—Land settlement covering farms in all states and not confined to a few states.

2—Home aid to encourage purchase of homes in either country or city.

3—Vocational training for all exservice persons desiring it.

"4—Adjustment of compensation or final adjustment of extra back pay based on length of service for those not desiring to avail themselves of any one of the previous three features.

"The ex-service person to be given his option of any one and only one of the above four feautres, shall only be as liberal as is consistent with the welfare of the whole country.

"The American legion asks nothing in its selfish interests at the expense of the country but at the same time does not feel that this obligation to ex-service men and women should be altogether passed by at this time and all economizing done at the expense of the ex-service men.

"Having waited over a year, it is not unreasonable now to expect some action showing that the interests of the ex-service men have not been altogether forgotten."

Both d'Olier and Miller sought to show that they were not asking a bonus but an adjustment of compensation.

"The cost of living has gone up and faces the service man as never before upon his discharge. His service has not fitted him to earn more money and his financial status is not nearly as good as that of the man who remained in civil life; and in addition, he has a debt in many cases incurred by his family for living expenses during his absence.

ALLIED PREMIERS LOAD BURDENS ON THE WORLD LEAGUE

LEADERS IN LEAGUE OF NATIONS DISPLEASED WHEN ARMENIAN CARE IS GIVEN TO THEM

SEE PLOT AGAINST LEAGUE

Officers Object to Having League Treated as a Messenger Boy and Want Premiers' Council to Ease up Its Burdens

(By Webb Miller)
By United Press Leased Wire

London.—A third important burden soon is to be placed upon the shoulders of the infant league of nations, according to authoritative information today.

The council of premiers, it was said, has decided to turn over to the league the task of taking over the government of the new Armenian nation. The council's decision, it was understood, will be announced simultaneously with completion of the treaty of peace with Turkey.

League proponents were frankly displeased with the council's attitude toward their baby organization. The league, they said, while still an embryonic organization, was being burdened with tasks which might overwhelm, easily, even an experienced organization. They expressed surprise at the council's "change of policy toward the league."

Some league-backers even indicated their belief that the premiers intend deliberately to bury the society of nations before it becomes a really effective machine.

League enthusiasts were particularly dissatisfied with the council's decision to assign to the society, thru its labor bureau, the task of representing reporting on conditions in Russia. This mission they saw as "filled with dynamite."

They feared also the council's tendency to shift the world financial problem to the league. This question, the organization's backers believed, is sure to "back fire" and they insisted that the league should not be made to bear the blame for the almost inevitable popular condemnation which they assert is sure to grow out of any decisions on measures to restore the world's war wrecked financial structure.

It was intimated that unless the council delegates specific powers to the league as to the financial conference and the Russian investigation, agreeing to abide by the league's decisions or recommendations, league officials will deem it futile to proceed.

"And if the council does intend to take the league seriously," one prominent league proponent said, "why is it that the premiers keep turning various problems over to the league and at the same time continue their own deliberations on the same measures?"

The Armenian mandate, these men believed, will be acceptable to the league only with the understanding that the league is not to be interfered with and shall have the power eventually to take over Constantinople should the Turks violate international rights.

One league advocate summed up the situation thus:

"The league of nations does not—at its very start—want to be placed in the position of a messenger boy, or a servant of the council of premiers."

Dan Cupid, Aided By Leap Year, Is Out To Establish New Record

Reports From Many Cities Indicate a Large Increase in the Number of Marriages in First Two Months of Year

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—This leapyear is starting out to set a record in marriages according to statistics gathered from all parts of the country today.

Increases in marriage licenses during January and February this year over the corresponding period of 1919 ranged from a comparatively few to nearly 100 per cent. Of the cities reporting, Dallas, Tex., showed the greatest increase. Boston was the only city to report a decrease.

Some officials, notably in New York, Denver, Milwaukee, Harrisburg, and Lincoln, Neb., attributed the gains to women taking advantage of their prerogative to do the proposing. Others suggested the culmination of war economies, while still others said improved economic conditions were responsible.

New York officials, who reported 6,050 licenses this year compared with 5,296 last year, based their belief that women are proposing on the fact that "great numbers of them are paying the $1 license fee."

Harrisburg, Pa., reported 226 this year and 190 last year.

"The figures seem to prove that 1920 brides are not too slow to pop the question or, if not that, possibly the leap year thoughts has lent courage to the men," said Recorder M. H. Taylor.

"Leapyear perhaps has been responsible for the increase, but you'd better look at the divorce records before you form any conclusions," said the license clerk in Lincoln, Neb., in reporting 213 licenses this year against 152 in 1919.

"I attribute the gains to women's proposals," said Miss May Hines, cupid's emissary at the Denver license bureau. She reported 530 this year and 301 last year.

Milwaukee reported 628 this year and 531 in 1919 officials giving leap year and "the men back from the war" as a reason.

Hartford, Conn., reported 173 this year and 118 last year, believed culmination of war romances responsible for the increases.

Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Cleveland and Columbus, O., said increases were due to higher wages and better economic conditions generally.

Boston, recording a decrease from 1,085 to 1,030, blamed the high cost of living and the housing shortage.

PALMER WILLING TO BE CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY

ATTORNEY GENERAL ANNOUNCES HIMSELF AS "ADMINISTRATION CANDIDATE —M'ADOO NEXT?

PROHIBITION TO BE ISSUE

Politicians Striving to Inject Wet and Dry Fight in Campaign in Order to Dwarf Peace Treaty and League Arguments

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington— Formal announcement by Attorney General Palmer that he is a candidate for president was expected to be followed within a few days by a statement from friends of W. G. McAdoo, former secretary of treasury that he is a "receptive" candidate for the democratic nomination.

Palmer's announcement was made in a telegram to the Georgia state democratic committee in which he said that if he were the choice of the voters in primary April 20 he would accept the honor. He also indicated that he was an administration candidate saying that the voters would have opportunity in the primary to express their opinion of the administration's record.

McAdoo, it was learned, was in Washington yesterday in conference with Daniel Roper, collector of internal revenue. Friends of Roper say he will be McAdoo's campaign manager.

Word was believed to have gone out from the White house to assure aspirants for the democratic nomination that President Wilson will not be a third term candidate. Heretofore the democratic possibilities have been holding back, waiting for Wilson to make himself clear on this point. Palmer's announcement was understood to be the first result of "letting down the bars."

Another development of this new policy will be the start of vigorous campaigns by the various democratic candidates. To date the democrats have been laying back while the republican aspirants established headquarters in a number of places and went on stump speaking tours. The next few weeks are expected to see a number of democrats on the road, including Palmer, Gerard, McAdoo, Governor Edwards, the "wet" candidate; Senator Owen and possibly Champ Clark.

Prohibition enforcement may overshadow the treaty as the big issue of the presidential campaign, according to the developments of the last few days in the political situation.

As it becomes increasingly evident that the senate is not likely to take final action on the treaty and that the treaty issue will be thrown into the campaign there is an apparent movement to dwarf it by injecting prohibition into the fight. This movement is believed to have the backing of some politicians who do not want the treaty as the paramount issue in November.

Their belief is that prohibition would overshawod the treaty. This would be particularly true, it is held, if the two parties went into the campaign with slightly different treaty planks both favoring reservations. The public might have a hard time distinguishing between the technicalities of "interpretative" reservations, such as the president has said are acceptable to him and the so-called "Americanizing" reservtions which the president has said would change the league covenant to such an extent as to make it impossible for him to accept such a ratification. But the clear cut issue of beer and light wines for home consumption as against the present strict enforcement of the dry laws would get to the public mind at once and enlist the public interest so that the treaty would be relegated to a minor place, these politicians argue.

It would be no surprise to some senators who are keeping in close touch with the political situation to see a marked increase in the activities of the light wine and beer advocates as soon as the senate actually puts the treaty aside.

The senate today continued to talk treaty with an agreement to vote at two o'clock on reservation number four, covering domestic questions.

PLUMB PLAN CAMPAIGN WILL BE CONTINUED

Author of Bill Favored by Railroad Men Said Esch-Cummins Law Will Be Tested Before Supreme Court

By United Press Leased Wire

Youngstown, O. — The constitutionality of the Esch-Cummins bill will be tested in the supreme court, Glenn E. Plumb, author of the Plumb plan for the nationalization of the railroads said here in an address last night. The efforts in favor of adoption of the Plumb plan will not be diminished he said.

Plumb predicted the failure of the Esch-Cummins bill within a year. Neither labor, capital or the public can benefit under its provisions, he said. He quoted Walker D. Hines as stating that the cost of living will go up $5,000,000,000 if the 25 percent freight rate increase is granted.

Lester McCarthy has returned to Milwaukee after a short visit here.

One of the largest mahogany logs ever marketed turned out 17,000 feet of solid wood.

Bank Acquires Property For Future Needs

First National Bank Buys Stevens Building Adjoining it to Provide For Expansion of First Trust Company

Another sale of College avenue property was completed this morning when the First National Bank purchased the building adjoining it to the west from John Stevens. The consideration was not made public.

The property was purchased for the First Trust company, affiliated with the bank, in order to provide quarters in the future if the trust company outgrows its present accommodations. No changes will be made on the property until the Trust company needs the room.

The building is now occupied by the Meyer and Seeger Music company, Ryan and Long, W. T. Ross, Herman Wildhagen and Daniel P. Steinberg. None of the tenants will be disturbed. It is said they all have long term leases on the quarters which they occupy.

The trust company will soon take over the quarters in the rear of the bank building, formerly occupied by the Fischer Music company. The company now maintains an office on the second floor of the building.

The trust company's business has exceeded all expectations, it was said, and it may be only a matter of a few years when additional room is required and the property was purchased so that there will be room for expansion.

NEW JERSEY'S 3.5 PER CENT BEER LAW SIGNED BY GOVERNOR

BILL LEGALIZING MANUFACTURE OF BEER WITH REAL KICK IS PASSED BY THE UPPER HOUSE

By United Press Leased Wire

Trenton, N. J.—Governor Edwards shortly after noon today signed the bill passed by the legislature to allow the manufacture and sale of beverages containing three and one half per cent of alcohol. The law, however, does not become operative until termination of the state of war. Senator Simpson of Hudson County and Assemblyman Barrett of Essex, both democrats were among those who witnessed the signing.

The pen used by the governor will be presented to the Personal Liberty league, organization of which has been started in New York.

The bill which would make it legal in this state to manufacture and sell beverages having up to 3.50 per cent of alcohol, and which passed the lower house of the legislature last Tuesday, was adopted by the senate late Monday night, by a vote of 12 to 9, after extended and bitter debate.

This measure, which has attracted nationwide attention and has brought a warning from federal authorities that the prohibition amendment and the Volstead enforcement act would be prosecuted to the limit of the law, notwithstanding contrary legislation, enacted by New Jersey, was drawn by State Attorney General McCran to make a foundation for the fight he is to make next week in the Supreme court of the United States at request of the governor against the national amendment and the Volstead act.

It specifically provides that it shall not become operative until termination of the state of war with Germany, and fixes severe penalties for first and subsequent violations.

Reports that 3.50 beer would be put on sale as soon as the governor signed the bill are unfounded, and the brewers of the state have even announced that they would make no attempt to re-engage in the business until the supreme court had decided the whole question of prohibition.

Six democrats and six republicans supported the bill, while the nine votes against the measure were all cast by republicans.

In behalf of the bill, it was urged that the use of the word "concurrent" in the constitutional amendment had placed upon the state the right, power and duty to enact legislation.

The only way to get a clearcut issue before the Supreme court as to just what rights the state had in the matter was enactment of this legislation, it was argued.

BAY STATE DRY TOWNS NOW VOTE FOR LIQUOR

By United Press Leased Wire

Boston—Complete returns today from the 64 Masaschusetts towns which held their annual elections yesterday showed that 33 registered a heavy vote in favor of selling liquor. Practically all of these towns were previously "dry" strongholds.

Lexington voted "wet" for the first time in 40 years, while Dedham swung to the damp column after being a strong no license town 23 years. Several towns voted in favor of liquor for the first time.

SUPREME COURT'S RULING PUZZLES "TRUST BUSTERS"

GOVERNMENT ATTORNEYS DISAPPOINTED BY DECISION IN FAVOR OF U. S. STEEL CORPORATION

NULLIFIES ANTI-TRUST LAW

Believed That Anti-Trust Suits Against Other Corporations Will Go By The Boards as a Result of the Ruling

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C.—Government officials were perplexed as to what further "trust busting" steps should be taken by the department of justice in the light of the supreme court decision holding that the United States Steel corporation was not a combination in violation of the anti-trust laws.

The belief of some of the leading lawyers of the department of justice was that the decision virtually nullified the Sherman anti-trust law, under which two big dissolution decrees, those of the Standard Oil and the American Tobacco, had been ordered by the supreme court. This was the view expressed by the justices dissenting from the opinion.

A statement as to the future action of the government is expected to be made by Attorney Palmer shortly. The government attorneys were keenly disappointed at the decisions particularly since they believe had the full court considered the case the government would have won and this belief complicates the future action of the department.

Justices McReynolds and Brandeis took no part in the decision, because of previous connection with the case. Judging by their past acts, both would have shared the views of the minority yesterday and thus it was pointed out, the court would have decided for the government by a 5 to 4 vote. McReynolds prosecuted the suits against steel corporation while attorney general and Brandeis, by appearing before a senate committee investigating monopolies in 1911, was instructed in having the dissolution suit brought in lower courts.

The belief was expressed by some officials that Standard Oil and American Tobacco decisions do not conform to the Steel Trust opinion, but the majority opinion claimed these combines committed overt acts while the main charge against the steel corporation was that it is so powerful that it is dangerous.

Several big anti-trust suits are still pending in the court, including the Lehigh and Reading anthracite coal, the Quaker Oats, the Eastman Kodak and the Keystone Watch Cases.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE READY TO BE PROBED

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—The anti-saloon league of New York and William H. Anderson, its superintendent, has been "ready for investigation for twenty years" Anderson asserted in a statement today.

Anderson's statement was in reply to the assembly's approval of a resolution calling for investigation of the league, its finances and the campaign activities of its superintendent.

"The anti-saloon league has violated no laws" Anderson declared.

"I have been ready for investigation for 20 years. If the assembly wants to waste valuable time and public funds to give us a certificate to that effect we should worry."

RAILMEN TO BE INVITED TO SELECT WAGE ARBITERS

By United Press Leased Wire

Washington—President Wilson today planned to send a letter to railroad employes and executives inviting them to choose representatives for a joint wage tribunal. The president promised to take this action in a letter addressed to the railroad union men when he signed the Esch-Cummins railroad bill Saturday.

A joint tribunal of employes and executives is provided in the bill but its findings are made subject to review by a tripartite board consisting of representatives of labor, the executives and the public.

Leading house officials today expressed themselves as optimistic over the labor situation.

BREWERS PRAY FOR QUICK RATIFICATION OF TREATY

By United Press Leased Wire

Milwaukee. — Wisconsin brewers are eagerly waiting for the senate to ratify the peace treaty. As a result of Federal Judge F. A. Greiger's ruling yesterday, that the state Mulberger law, fixing 2.5 per cent beer as non-intoxicating, is valid state legislation, Milwaukee and other Wisconsin breweries are preparing to resume business under the Mulberger law.

H. A. Sawyer, federal district attorney has asked consent of the attorney general's department to appeal directly to the federal supreme court for review of Judge Geiger's decision.

In the meantime a number of saloons continue to do a fair business in dispensing the federally censored one half of one per cent beer.

HIGH SCHOOL WILD OVER PROSPECTS IN TOURNEY

Rooters Will Be on Sidelines in Every Game in Sectional Tournament Apening Thursday.

Enthusiasm is running rampant at the high school over the Oshkosh sectional basketball tourney which opens Thursday. The locals have been selected as one of the eight teams to compete, and should have a great fight for first honors.

A big delegation from Appleton will be on the sidelines to root for Coach Vincent's five in every game. Appleton's opponent for Thursday and the time of the contest, has not been announced.

The highs are doing light practicing daily and will be in tip top shape for the tourney. Briese has entirely recovered from an attack of blood poisoning, and Kubitz will also be back in the line-up after missing the Shawano contest.

LAWRENCE PLAYS TWO CAGE GAMES THIS WEEK

Blue and White Squad Plays Beloit Friday and Milton Saturday Night—Hopes to Win Both Games

Two games with Beloit and Milton colleges Friday and Saturday night, respectively, will wind up the season for the Lawrence college basketball five. Both games will be played on opponents' floors.

With second place in the conference race as the prize, Coach Beyer is grooming his squad for the Beloit battle Friday night. The Blue and White achieved a win over Beloit at Alexander gym in a previous contest, and should repeat the performance.

The Milton game will have no bearing on the standings. Milton appears weak, and Coach Beyer's five should have as successful a trip as last week, when the locals came home with two victories.

PENTATHLON MEET WILL BE HELD AT LAWRENCE

Coach Charles Beyer is making plans for the annual pentathlon meet to be held soon at Lawrence college. The pentathlon is the indoor track meet between the various classes, and gives the college mentor a line on his track material for the intercollegiate meets.

A special feature of the event this year will be the medley inter-sorority relay race. The run will be of a mile length, two runners traveling 220 yards, another 440, and the fourth a half mile.

AHERNS AND ZOLL TO WRESTLE AGAIN TONIGHT

The semi-final event in tonight's wrestling bout at Green Bay will include an Appleton men, Ed. Ahrens, the budding farmer champ, who will again go to the mat with Martin Zoll. In last week's contest here, they wrestled to a draw.

The main event will be a match between the conquerors of Young Romanoff, Carl Zoll of Green Bay and Paul Kowalski of Gary, Ind., who are about evenly matched and promise an interesting contest. It is expected that several Appleton fans will attend.

CHIPPEWAS CLIMB IN VOLLEYBALL LEAGUE

Snatching three straight games from the Oneidas, the Chippewas made last evening's volley ball contest at St. Paul Recreation club somewhat exciting. The Sioux entrenched themselves a little deeper in their hold on first place by taking two out of three games from the Menominees. The Chippewas, who have been the cellar champions of the league, are now in second place, and the Oneidas and Menominees are tied for third. The series will be continued next Monday evening.

YOUTHFUL BOWLERS ARE SCARING OLD TIMERS

Older bowlers had better look to their laurels. Several Appleton youths who have taken up bowling this year for the first time, have organized a team, and are proving champions in the bud. The team, which includes Reinhold Schabo, Earl Rogers, Robert Van Roy, and Maynard Fields, is "coming fast", according to A. T. Jenss, proprietor of the Arcade.

AUDIENCE PLEASED BY YEATS' PLAYLET

LOVE OF IRISH POET-DRAMATIST FOR IRELAND ILLUSTRATED BY ENGLISH CLUB OF COLLEGE

A large audience of town people and students enjoyed the Yeats program given last night in the old chapel by the English club of Lawrence. Much interest is being shown in the works of the poet-dramatist who will be here March 5 and many took advantage of the program given last night.

Miss Esther Baldwin read two of Yeats poems, after which William Bell Lindsay gave a short talk on the poet himself. The feature of the evening's program was the presentation of the play "Cathleen Ni Moulihan" by the members of Professor W. S. Orr's dramatic class.

The play is one of the best known of Yeats' works and shows his great love for Ireland. In it, the spirit of Ireland is shown entering the humble homes and calling forth the folk to give their lives for the sake of Ireland.

The leading part, Cathleeen or the spirit of Ireland, was carried out by Miss Grace Haylette. The other members of the cast were the Misses Pearl Werbel, Margaret Luce and Vera Olbert, Graeme O'Geran, and Earl Blank.

Mrs. Ludolph Arens will present another of Yeats' plays, "The Land of Heart's Desire," tomorrow morning at the 9 o'clock chapel period. Appleton people are invited to be present.

SLIGHT INCREASE IN NUMBER OF MARRIAGES

The checks were turned over to Louis A. Peterson, county treasurer, who will forward them to Madison at once.

A number of German shells of varying sizes were received last week from Mr. Verity. One of them is a 240 millimeter shell and there are other smaller sizes.

BEG YOUR PARDON

Figures used in reporting the sale of the Briggs' Hotel yesterday were held to be incorrect this morning. The true status of the sale is as follows: P. A. Kornely bid $9,174.90 to cover the first two mortgages and other outstanding obligations. T. A. Meany proprietor of the hotel had already taken care of two mortgages aggregating $8,540, held by Mr. Wittig and Mr. Peterson. The hotel cost in reality more than $17,000 and Mr. Meany has nearly $25,000 invested in the place.

ROLFE IS IN MILITARY HOSPITAL FOR INJURIES

Richard Rolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rolfe, Sherman Place, who was taken to a United States military hospital at Chicago last week to receive treatments for injuries received in the recent war, is to be transferred to another hospital because of his condition. Mr. Rolfe went to Chicago last Thursday, accompanied by his sister, Miss Fieure Rolfe.

Information received this morning indicated the young man is in a very precarious condition. He was wounded while fighting with the Canadian forces. He was severely gassed and his body was racked by the explosion of a high explosive shell on a dugout in which he was working. He spent many months in British and Canadian hospitals and apparently was recovering. Mr. Rolfe had been able to be about all last summer and fall, but became ill during the cold weather.

SAYS THREATS HAD BEEN MADE TO RAID I. W. W. HALL

By United Press Leased Wire

Smith denied that he advised the industrialists to station men in positions to repel the raid but said he told them they had a right to defend their lives and property.

Yellow Mustard For Rheumatism

A good hot mustard plaster or poultice is pretty sure to overcome most rheumatic pains and even sciatica and gout, but it's a mussy affair and generally blisters.

Heat is absolutely necessary if you want permanent relief. Begy's Mustarine, made of true yellow mustard with pain relieving ingredients added is just as hot, is cheaper, cleaner and more effective than the old fashioned poultice or plaster and cannot blister.

Besides rheumatic pains and swellings Begy's Mustarine is speedily effective for lumbago, backache, neuritis, pleurisy, bronchitis, sore throat, chest colds and all aches and pains because heat eases pain—30 and 60 cents at druggists or by mail. S. C. Wells & Co., Le Roy, N. Y.

SCHOOL FOR ROAD INSPECTORS HERE MARCH 11 AND 12

ROAD EXPERTS FROM MANY COUNTIES WILL COME HERE FOR INSTRUCTION IN THEIR WORK

With the idea of assisting inspectors on concrete road and bridge construction to a better understanding of their duties and responsibilities, thereby increasing their efficiency, the Wisconsin Highway commission will hold a school for inspectors at the courthouse in Appleton March 11 and 12. Schools will also be held in Madison, March 16 and 17, and in Milwaukee, March 18, 19. The Madison meeting will be held in the state capitol. Inspectors from more than twenty counties in this section of the state will attend the meeting here.

It is believed that a great deal of good will come from these schools and county highway commissioners and division engineers are requested to urge the attendance of the men they expect to employ as inspectors on 1920 construction, as well as others who may be willing to accept positions in other sections of the state. Men attending these meetings who qualify as inspectors and are later employed on state or federal aid construction will be allowed a reasonable amount of extra time to offset the expense incurred.

At a later date examinations will be held at the division offices to determine the applicants qualifications and give them a rating. County highway commissioners are invited to attend these meetings.

CALL MEETING TO DISCUSS HOUSING THURSDAY EVENING

HOUSE SITUATION WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING AT Y. M. C. A.—SPEAKERS COMING

Appleton's business people are going to get down to serious consideration of the housing situation without further delay. The committee appointed by the Real Estate board to arrange for a banquet announced through P. A. Kornely, chairman, that the gathering will take place at 6:15 o'clock Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

A list of Appleton's leading men, including manufacturers, merchants and others was prepared, and all of them will be extended a personal invitation to attend, and to bring with them any other interested person. They also invite to this meeting any others whom they might overlook in the invitations, and who want to enter into the consideration of this problem. All who attend, however, are required to make reservation for the dinner by Wednesday noon, either to Mr. Kornely or to Y. M. C. A.

The question of housing will be thoroughly threshed out at the meeting. The question of how to organize, and whether the business men will give assistance or not will be brought up. It is also planned to have Earl Miller, who is building 40 homes for a manufacturer at Kaukauna, talk at the meeting and contribute from his experience in matters of this kind. If available, Paul L. Stark, leading real estate dealer of Madison, will also be asked to address the meeting. Mr. Stark has been doing building on a large scale at Madison and has much valuable information to impart.

"I am sure the business men will respond heartily and work with us in this serious situation," Mr. Kornely stated in speaking of the proposed meeting. "We intend to have as full a representation as possible, and to take definite action."

FIREMEN ANSWER 15 CALLS IN FEBRUARY

Appleton fire department responded to fifteen alarms during February, Chief George P. McGillan stated today. This is about the average number of runs made by the local fire fighters monthly.

The estimated fire loss, as far as could be determined, was $824, Chief McGillan stated. The majority of fires were of small nature and were checked without serious loss.

A. N. Dier, superintendent of Fox River Improvement has returned from Sturgeon Bay, where he was called by the death of his father-in-law, John Maples, one of the early pioneers of that city.

ONLY 11 ARRESTS BY POLICE DEPARTMENT SINCE FIRST OF YEAR

NO ARRESTS WERE MADE IN JANUARY AND 11 LAST MONTH — AMBULANCE IS BUSY

Not a single arrest was made by the Appleton police during January, and only 11 arrests were made in February, according to figures announced by Chief George T. Prim today. The February record would have been almost negligible but for the fact that a raid terminated in the capture of six inmates of an alleged gambling house, and three prisoners were apprehended for outside officers.

January was the first month since Chief Prim has been at the head of the Appleton department to have a clean record on the book, and it probably is the first time this has happened in the history of the city.

"The reason for this marked decrease of crime is that people are behaving themselves," said Chief Prim. "Ordinances are being strictly observed."

"Prohibition? Yes, in the number of drunks, but not in the other variety of offenses. The criminal who goes out to crack a safe, or stick up someone is usually the clear headed offender, who is sure of himself."

While in the matter of arrests the department had little to do, the ambulance and police auto were kept busy continually. Sixteen ambulance calls for 48.6 miles were made. The auto made 78 runs and traveled 227 miles. The large number of sick cases in the city necessitating the transfer of patients is the reason for the unusual activity.

Following is the classification of arrests for February 1920 and December, 1919:

February—11
Jumping board bill 1.
Inmates gambling house, 6.
Carrying concealed weapons, 1.
Passing bogus checks, 1.
Incorrigibility, 1.
Assault and battery, 1.

December—3
Larceny, 2.
False pretenses, 1.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Easily prepared, and saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for a severe cough, is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Pour 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the annoying throat tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes. To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. LOCAL BANKS HAVE FOOD DRAFTS TO BE SENT TO EUROPEANS

PROCESS OF SENDING FOOD TO SUFFERERS IN CENTRAL EUROPE IS GREATLY SIMPLIFIED

The First National and Citizens National banks are today in receipt of "Food" drafts, which it was recently announced would be sent to Appleton.

By means of the drafts, persons who have relatives or friends in Austria, Poland, Hungary, Czecho-Slovakia or Germany may provide them with food without the necessity of sending it from here. The American Relief administration, headed by Herbert Hoover, maintains warehouses at Vienna, Warsaw, Budapest, Prague and Hamburg. By purchasing a draft here and sending it to a person in any of the central European nations mentioned above, the receiver may take it to the warehouse and receive the quantity of food the draft calls for.

Drafts are issued in denominations of, $10 and $50. The former will purchase 24½ pounds of flour, 10 pounds of beans, 16 pounds of bacon, and eight cans of milk. The latter is good for 140 pounds of floor, 50 pounds of beans, 18 pounds of bacon, 15 pounds of lard, 12 of corned beef and 48 cans of milk. There are also two other combinations for the drafts which vary the quantity of articles somewhat.

This plan of relief is to vercome the loss of money and packages that have been mailed to residents of the stricken countries, and encourages the desire to donate because of the simplicity of the sending process.

FRANCE AND DEFENSE.

When the world war began the British standing army consisted of 250,000 men and was scattered all over the earth. This was one of the factors responsible for the delay of Great Britain in making itself effective in the war on land. Of course Great Britain depended mainly for protection upon her fleet, and its power was of great advantage not only in initial stages of the war but throughout its duration. However, the issues of the conflict were mainly determined, so far as actual fighting went, on land, and the opening of hostilities found England noticeably weak in this field. Fortunately for the cause of the allies, fear of Germany caused France to keep in readiness a highly efficient standing army of 800,000 men.

It was this French army and its sustained "they-shall-not-pass" determination that saved Europe until England first and the United States later could muster and put into action their potential military strength. Each one of the allies engaged in that life-and-death struggle realizes today that after the enormous and long perfected German war machine was let loose the fate of civilization was in the balance at crucial periods while the nations on the defensive were desperately attempting to muster, train and equip their man power. The margin between victory and defeat was slender. It was a close shave all around.

The war is over and the world hoped and expected to see an end to the military policies of Europe which were one of its potent causes. It was the purpose of the league of nations to organize the free and responsible governments for the preservation of peace and the prevention of war. Under this plan the necessity of maintaining large standing armies and great military establishments would have disappeared. But the league of nations is not yet successfully created. With the United States out of the league and its prospects, therefore, uncertain, European nations are casting about for the selection of policies that will safeguard their interests and existence.

France is now preparing to create a standing army of a million men, which is going back to pre-war conditions as far as she is concerned. If France actually decides upon this course she can hardly be blamed, bearing in mind the fact that the British army has been reduced to 220,000 men, and that she cannot rely upon assistance from Great Britain and the United States in the event she is attacked. Experience permits France to take no chances. Nevertheless, it is unfortunate that conditions may force her to a return to defensive militarism. Not only will it be a severe burden upon the people, but it will make more difficult the reduction of the rest of the world to a truly peace basis. Undoubtedly if the United States were to enter the league of nations France would not carry through this program, but no one knows in Europe what the United States will do, in fact the United States itself does not seem to know.

SPRING POEMS.

In a climate of rigorous winters Nature resorts to hibernation. The trees stand gaunt and bare in an attitude of defense; for the leaves are gone, and it is the leaves, with all their wonderful extent of surface, that keep the living tree in touch with the life-giving forces beyond it.

Through the leaves the sun and the air keep up the marvelous chemistry that builds living fibre out of dead chemicals—the living fibre that man so ruthlessly cuts down and burns, to get back for himself the heat that the long, slow growth of many summers stored in it.

Bears, clad in thick fur, have crawled into pits and sleep beneath the protecting snow, supporting life at a low ebb on the fat that they stored up from the last summer's growth of fruits and roots. The frogs lie buried in protecting holes. The birds are gone.

But with the long, warm days of spring all this is changed. The sun, the giver of heat and life, has returned. The trees put out new leaves, to come again in touch with wind and weather, the bear leaves his cave, to bask in the new warmth. Buried creatures dig their way out of their holes. Buried seeds put out green shoots. Birds come back. Cows go out to grass. Man puts out his fires and leaves the protecting house.

For the constructive, life-giving chemistry of nature has begun once more. The defensive attitude may be thrown aside. Living creatures are free again to get into touch with all the world. Then comes that outburst of openness and trust and happiness in man and brute that makes people write spring poems.

A DESIRABLE CHANGE.

As is well known the foreign relations of the Dominion of Canada are conducted through the British government. For many years this practice has been a source of irritation to Canadians in their relations with the United States. Whenever the dominion desired to address itself to the United States, or vice versa, it had to be done through Downing street, London. There has long been a feeling that two great countries of the western hemisphere, divided only by a 3,000 mile boundary line and having so many interests in common, ought to discuss and determine the affairs concerning them through direct communication. Notwithstanding the uniformly friendly feeling between the two countries, they have had some notable controversies. These have of necessity been referred to the British foreign office and the negotiations as a matter of fact were between the United States and England rather than between it and Canada.

Occasionally these decisions, more or less favorable to the United States, have left an unpleasant taste in the mouths of our northern neighbors, some of whom have inclined to the view that the British government has not been unwilling to mildly sacrifice Canadian interests in order to please this powerful republic. Probably this feeling has not been justified, for it is certain this government has never sought to take advantage of Canada in any such manner, and we feel that the adjudication of all disputes with the Dominion has been as nearly equitable as may be expected in differences between nations.

Nevertheless, the system of diplomacy has not been satisfactory to Canada, and, we think, properly so. In recent years there has been a growing determination at Ottawa to obtain the right of establishing direct diplomatic relations between the Dominion and the United States, with the result that the Canadian parliament now has before it a measure of this character with the full assent of the British government. It is to be hoped, so far as United States is concerned, that this measure will become law, as undoubtedly it will. We would welcome a Canadian representative at Washington and would be glad to send one to Ottawa. During the latter part of the war a Canadian commissioner was kept in Washington with jurisdiction in the joint partnership of the two countries on matters of military supply. This arrangement not only proved to be useful but indicated that direct intercourse would be better for both countries in time of peace. Canadian relations with the United States are entirely of a nature that makes it desirable they be handled by their governments without recourse to the diplomacy of Great Britain.

TRANSCENDENTAL

"I could that I had never loved,"
Said Paul to pretty Polly,
Had never held your hand ungloved,
Nor kissed you in my folly,
For if I had not sipped the wine
Of those fond kisses, half divine,
I'd know that rare exhileration
Of young love's sweet anticipation:
O, if our lips had never met,
What joys would still be waiting yet!"

"I would you were not yet on earth,"
Said Polly unto Paul,
"I would I had postponed my birth
Until I heard your call.
Then from the day that we were born
We'd wait our blessed meeting-morn,
For oh! in finding love's elation,
We've lost its long anticipation!
Oh, Paul," she laughed in loving scorn
"What joy if we were yet unborn!"

Women Waste So Many Words Over Foolish Things, Is My Thought

"We had escaped so much that it wasn't humanly possible for us to survive more," the men seemed to say to each other. They looked at the sky, and the sea, and the barometer and at Chrys, who was stretched, collapsed and unconscious, in the bottom of the boat. Then they regarded the friendly ship. Then they looked at me.

I spoke without waiting for their question: "Bob! I must go to him. I must save him!" I said. "Take Chrys aboard the ship with you—go to Brazil—all of you. But I will stay here. Now that there is oil, I can make the harbor alone. I can run this boat, I have done so many times. I will take the risk—alone."

"Bravo! Bravo!" called the captain of the freighter, but his applause seemed a bit insincere, for he spoke earnestly to Travers in Spanish, and Travers translated his words.

"The captain says, Mrs. Lorimer, that you're taking a big chance. The storm may prove a hurricane. He agrees to put us aboard the first returning ship he meets. That may be tonight—within an hour—"

"If there's a storm, he can't put us aboard another ship. It may be two days before we can be transferred. By that time, what will have happened to Bob?"

"We'll all stick to our little boat, thank you, captain," called out Jordan Spence.

"Wireless to shore for us, please," called Travers.

And so the friendly freighter passed on and Travers got our engine to going, and soon we were riding waves which grew ever higher and higher, or were coasting down slopes of dark water which grew ever deeper and deeper while the atmosphere grew murkier.

Each wave, coming toward us, looked like the approach of our last adventure. As it passed beneath us and then preceded us, we felt as if we had been resurrected from the grave. I lived a thousand years in the next few hours, for with each ressurection, I regretted the sacrifice I had permitted my good friends to make. I had let three persons besides myself risk their lives for Bob's sake. I had no right to permit such a sacrifice. I had been supremely selfish.

"This boat's a wonder. She floats like a chip," I heard Travers say.

It was supposed to be non-sinkable, I knew. Nevertheless I was glad to let the men strap a life preserver about me.

It was, after all, the coast guard that saved us But being half drowned all of the time and unconscious part the time, I do not know the details of our rescue.

I "came to" at the life-saver's station, learned that we were all alive, and then went comfortably off to sleep, so exhausted that I did not give a single thought to my husband.

When I waked up with the feeling that I had strength to stay awake, I found myself in a hotel room. A nurse was watching at my side.

"My clothes," I demanded.

"Madame's clothes were ruined by the salt water," she answered. "But the gentlemen have ordered everything—for both ladies—from the best stores. Madame has but to select—"

I writhed with impatience. Women waste so many words over foolish things.

"Bring something—anything — quickly!" I exclaimed. "Where is Miss Lorimer?"

Chrys was in the next room and feeling well enough to talk. I didn't have any time to talk about the storm. It was enough that we were alive.

All I wanted was strength to get to the hacienda or will power to use as a substitute for strength. But first I had to have the details of what had happened at the hacienda before Chrys had come away.

HOLLAND OPENS GUNS AGAINST ZUYDER ZEE

Amsterdam.—Holland's war against her traditional enemy—the sea—is on in earnest. Work has been begun on the huge dyke that will sever the North Sea from the Zuyder Zee, making the latter a lake from which the water will later be pumped. The resulting reclaimed land will be at least 850 square miles.

An army of workmen are engaged on the enormous work, which, it is predicted, will last from twenty to thirty-five years. The pre-war estimate of the cost was $80,000,000 but it is now believed it cannot be accomplished for less than $125,000,000.

The government authorized bond issues to raise funds for the work, expecting the revenue from reclaimed land to pay both principle and interest soon after the water has been drawn out and farms established in the old bed of the shallow Zuyder Zee.

The plans call for construction of huge concrete blocks to be laid on the bottom of the sea-arm the entire length of the dyke, from the island of Wieringen to Piaam, on the Frisian coast. The distance is about 20 miles. On this concrete foundation will be piled rock clay, sand and concrete until the dyke is built from seven to ten feet above sea level. It is planned to lay a double-track railroad along the top of the dyke to be used in later construction and finally for traffic from northeast to southwest Holland.

In the meantime similar but smaller dykes will have been constructed through the lake dividing it into five sections. The water will then be pumped out at each section, the ground allowed to dry and then it will be cut up into farms enough to support a population of 300,000. The reclaimed territory will comprise a new and separate province of the Netherlands.

The picturesque little island of Marken, long known and loved by tourists, will appear as a hill in the flat country that will be left when the water has been driven away. The little villages of fishermen will disappear as such and the inhabitants will either have to enter other trades or move their shanties to another sea.

At peace with men for generations, Holland has been fighting the sea ceaselessly with varying fortunes. Since 1848 the present plan has been under discussion. Dozens of schemes have been proposed since that time and book after book has been printed, filled with data pro and con. The Dutch parliament passed the bill authorizing the undertaking of the vast work in 1918.

Several times the country has been overwhelmed by the treacherous enemy. In 1421 the sea swept over the dykes and submerged parts of South Holland, formerly one of the richest in the kingdom, and to this day the land there has not been reclaimed.

A Case of Love Obsession

Letter from a man at the dangerous age:

"I am 44 years old, have been married 18 years, have a wife and two children. Twenty years ago I fell in love with a girl, but somehow we drifted apart * * * I saw her recently for the first time in all those years, and I find my love for her stronger than ever * * * Of course, I don't want to do anything unfair to my wife and children * * * but she made me promise to call on her and her husband also urged me to call * * * she is on my mind all day and all night * * * love * * * love * * * love fired with all the old love * * * ."

There is a whole page of the same nonsense.

This man is either insane or mentally defective. From his apparent view of love I should say he is mentally defective.

What is love?

Love is the novelist's main support. Fiction has to have something to keep it going, and love is the fantasy which takes the place of the child's fairy or giant or dragon in the mushy fiction idle grownups like.

Love is a joke, the funniest thing in the world, at sixteen, at forty, at any age. It brings out the simian in our makeup. Then, too, we can hitch a good deal of our misbehavior or unwise behavior on it, just as the little child might summon the fairies to help her out of a predicament. Love does not make a man or woman do absurd things; it is merely the excuse trumped up by the culprit ex post factor.

I am not speaking here of the bonds which unite husband and wife, or mother and daughter, or anything like that. I am speaking of romantic love merely, the great delusion which people with a deficiency of gray matter like to believe warrants their misdeeds and absurdities.

It is all right for a fellow to imagine that he loves his girl, or vice versa, until they get married. Then let them forget the nonsense and learn to respect and cherish one another.

Love leads the silly young man to invest in $5 boxes of candy and all that sort of thing, on his fifty dollars a week income. Well, a sane man wouldn't try to impress his wife that way. He buys a pound of candy—on rare ceremonious occasions—and the wife is lucky if she gets more than three pieces out of the box.

Love is the great alibi for the untamed Lothario.

One of the best remedies for love is vigorous open air exercise.

Puppy-love, we call it when it afflicts the children. It afflicts children whose physical condition is neglected.

Puppy-love it remains, even in our best sellers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

A Red Blossom

Some time ago I noticed in your column a lotion or formula for red blossom. I meant to save the item, but mislaid it. I wonder if you will be good enough to repeat that formula? (A. S.)

ANSWER—It was for "rum blossom," a badge which many of us staunch prohibitionists wear.

Potassium sulphurated .... one dram
Zinc sulphate ..... one dram
Rose water ..... four ounces
To be applied at night, following a prolonged hot face bath.

Forty Pounds Off

I tried the Karell regimen as you suggested and reduced from 220 pounds to 180 pounds. I feel fine and experienced nothing of discomfort except temptation to eat, as I do much baking and cooking for a growing family of healthy children. Now, what I wish to ask is, whether it would be well to reduce more, and if so, how much? I am 43 years old, 67 inches tall. How much should I weigh? Thanking you for the many helps I have received from your column. (G. B. T.)

ANSWER—The average weight of women of your height and age is 153 pounds; add not more than ten per cent for good looks, and that makes 168 pounds. So you had better keep on and knock off 12 more pounds. May I not, as a certain very good schoolmaster might say, suggest that a woman of your intelligence should have no difficulty in accomplishing that, being untroubled with the fear of "starvation" which obsesses so many of the fat ones. Fletcherize—it satisfies the appetite with less food. Rearrange your meals, taking the sweet or dessert first—it diminishes the appetite for other items on the bill of fare.

SCHOOL TEACHERS IN HORTONVILLE MAY GIVE UP JOBS

SCHOOL AND VILLAGE BOARDS REFUSE TO GRANT REQUEST FOR BONUS TO MEET LIVING COST

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Hortonville—Teachers in the public school of Hortonville are considering throwing up their jobs as a result of the refusal of the school board and the village board of trustees to grant their request for a bonus to meet the increasing cost of living. The president of the school board notified the mentors that if they were not satisfied with their present salaries and present conditions the board was ready to accept their resignations.

Teachers assert that if they decide to go on a strike the schools will undoubtedly be closed and in all probability the village will lose its state aid.

The climax to the wage controversy came Saturday evening at a meeting of the teachers with the school board and the village board of trustees. The teachers, in their plea for a bonus, said that the "standard of living" demanded of teachers is higher than other vocations that the cost of living has increased almost 100 per cent; that the cost of qualifying for the profession is large and that the teacher receives no pay for overtime. The pedagogues also argued that for three months of each year they draw no salaries but are obliged to attend summer school. They presented statistics to show how other school boards were meeting the situation

It was also argued the salaries in other professions have increased while teachers are drawing the same pay. All these arguments had little effect on the boards, however, and the plea was unanimously turned down.

Run Down Nervous Mothers

Gain Strength Rapidly on Vinol

In her zeal to do all in her power for her loved ones, most mothers overwork and soon get in a nervous, run-down condition. Vinol, the non-secret cod liver and iron tonic, is exactly what she needs to build her up, make her strong and quiet her nerves.

Please be Convinced by this Positive Proof

Dukedom, Tenn.—"Iwas in a very nervous, run-down condition. I had no appetite and was so weak it seemed almost impossible to keep around and do the housework for my family. A friend told me about Vinol, and I could see an improvement after taking only one bottle, it built me up so rapidly." —MRS. H. H. GOODWIN.

Dedham, Mass.—"I used Vinol for a run-down, weak, nervous condition. I was so weak at times I did not have the strength to do my housework, and could hardly keep around. My druggist recommended Vinol and after taking it for about one month it built me up so I felt stronger and better in every way."—MRS. HARVEY M. HARDISON.

For all run-down, nervous, anaemic conditions, weak women, overworked men, feeble old people and delicate children, there is no remedy like Vinol.

Your money will be returned if Vinol fails—

(Special to Post-Crescent)

Madison—The state of California has copied, almost verbatim, the lighting code of Wisconsin, according to advices which have been received by the Industrial Commission. The Wisconsin Lighting Code was adopted in the spring of 1918, having been prepared by an advisory committee representing employers, employees and illuminating engineers, cooperating with the Industrial Commission. The Wisconsin code is based in part upon the lighting code of the illuminating Engineering society, but with important modifications. These modifications have now been copied in California.

The Wisconsin code has been in effect as regards new construction since July 1, 1918. It will not become effective as regards existing lighting systems and equipment until July 1, 1920. Much attention is now being given by the deputies of the Industrial Commission to the matter of securing compliance with the lighting code as regards existing installations. In particular, the deputies of the commission are calling attention to the necessity for preventing direct glare from exposed lamps.

The second edition of the industrial lighting code has just been issued by the Industrial Commission. This publication in addition to the orders of the commission, contains a detailed discussion of how to comply with the requirements of the Code, which was prepared John A. Hooveler, the electrical engineer of the commission.

Many Wisconsin manufacturers have written the Industrial Commission giving concrete facts showing that good lighting is a profitable investment. Very remarkable records have been made by a number of Wisconsin manufacturers in increased out-put, reduced spoilage and fewer accidents, when modern lighting systems were installed. Many employers in the state are now providing a much better grade of lighting than is required by law.

GOOD LOGGING SEASON IN NORTH WISCONSIN

Wausau, Wis.—Northern Wisconsin loggers had a good season in spite of the labor shortage and too much snow in some localities. A number have already banked or skidded their entire cut and will soon break camp, not waiting for the spring thaw. During the entire winter ice roads have been easily made and maintained, and snow roads remained firm and ideal for hauling. At some camps record cuts have been made, and the total for the season will be above the estimates of last fall.

BANKERS TO PROVIDE MONEY FOR GOOD COWS

Marinette, Wis.—"Good cows will pay for themselves," is the slogan of the Farmers' Livestock Credit Co., formed in Marinette county by the bankers for extension of credit to farmers to be used in purchasing dairy cattle. It is incorporated for $25,000, and George Bogrand, Wausaukee, banker, is president.

INCORPORATIONS

Madison, Wis.—Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state as follows:

Heco Envelope Co., Illinois, $100,000, with $20,000 in Oshkosh, to manufacture paper, envelopes, paper boards, etc.

Davies Land Co., South Dakota, $25,000, all at Hayward, Wis., Real Estate.

Cross Country Light & Power Co., Middleton, $21,000. Electric current for light and power. Incorporators: E. F. Wittenburg, H. W. Staack, J. H. Kruse.

Improved Farms Co., Marinette, $75,000. To deal in real estate. Incorporators: Harry R. Goldman, Stanley E. Eastman, Jessie K. Cleary.

Antigo Tractor Co., Antigo, increasing capital from $100,000 to $500,000.

DIPHTHERIA CLOSES MANY SCHOOLS

No remedy yet discovered equals MUCO-SOLVENT in the successful treatment of every ill where inflammatory conditions of the throat or any part of the mucous linings exist.

For many years in succession diphtheria in Madison, Wis. was accompanied with a very large percentage of fatalities, but after the introduction of Muco-Solvent and when it became generally known and adopted there (which, by the way, was through the efforts of Capt. John Nader, who had previously lost a child by diphtheria), very few deaths have occurred and not one where Muco-Solvent was used. Epidemics and sporadic cases occur there yet, but they are no sooner born than they are stamped out by the prompt use of Muco-Solvent.

The schools of Neenah Wis., were closed because of an epidemic which involved nearly one hundred cases of diphtheria, and not one death occurred, a fact attributed to the prompt and general use of Muco-Solvent.

In Winneconne, Wis., the schools were closed. Thirty-three cases of diptheria developed, twelve of which received serum treatment. Four of these cases were lost, the other twenty-one cases were treated with Muco-Solvent and every one recovered, though nine of them were in families where the four deaths had occurred.

Muco-Solvent is the one family medicine that may be relied upon for Sore Throat, Coughs and Colds. Have you a package in your home?

Price 75c and $1.50 at all drug stores, or write Loewy Drug Co., Baltimore, Md.—Rufus C. Lowell, College Ave., and Walnut St. adv.

SUPERIOR LEGION INDORSES NATIONAL BONUS BILL

Superior, Wis.—Taking a stand unanimously in favor of the action of the national legislative committee of the American legion in urging congress to pass a bill providing every soldier with a $50 bonus for every month in service, the Superior post, at its meeting Wednesday night, adopted a resolution to be sent to the national committee to the effect that the local post heartily indorses the plan. Many declared that the soldiers were entitled to a bonus as well as those who worked at home and were paid bonuses.

CONSTANCE BINNEY IN "Erstwhile Susan"

A story of a Pennsylvania Dutch settlement—of a modern Cinderella, a scullery maid, the unwilling slave of a widower father and his two loutish sons. It tells of powerful contrasts—of false love and true love—of the unfolding of the bright flower of innocent girlhood triumphant even in a sombre environment of selfishness, sordidness and Satanic cruelty.

Derived from Mrs. Fiske's play by Marian de Forest and the original novel, "Barnabetta," by Helen R. Martin.

PROMISE STORMY WEEK IN BISBEE CASE TRIAL

Trial of Alleged Kidnapers is Resumed Today—Indian Formula Cures Attorney of Cancerous Growth

(By M. D. Tracy)
By United Press Leased Wire

Tombstone, Ariz.—After two days of drowsy quiet disturbed only by the braying of donkeys, the cawing of crows and the occasional chug of an automobile, Tombstone sprung into life again today with resumption of the Bisbee deportation trial.

Both sides promised this would be the stormiest week of the trial to date. It is expected to see completion of the jury and taking of evidence.

Agents have scoured the county for witnesses who will appear today and give further testimony in connection with the arrest of Attorney Bruce Stevenson of defense counsel for alleged perjury.

Tombstone today was still gossiping over the recovery of "Bob" French, county attorney. French, believed to be dying of cancer, gave Tombstone a shock by rising from his bed and walking to the courthouse. He explained that Al. Turner, cow puncher and "miracle man" had cured him, removing the cancerous growth from his face by an application of some salve, the formula for which Turner is said to have obtained from Indians. French's physicians had insisted an operation was necessary but now the aged lawyer says he's almost well and will be able to proceed in the Bisbee deportation trial this week.

I. W. W. SEEK TO PROVE SOLDIERS STARTED FIGHT

By United Press Leased Wire

Montesano, Wash.—The defense in the case of 11 I. W. W. on trial for murder in connection with the Centralia Armistice Day riots prepared today to introduce further testimony in an attempt to show the shooting of American Legion paraders followed a raid on the I. W. W. hall.

The structure of the defense's case hinges on whether the shooting preceeded or followed the raid by soldiers. George Vanderveer, chief defense attorney, declared. He is attempting to show the I. W. W. shot in self-defense.

THE LID JUST WOULDN'T TILT FOR LITTLE SIDNEY

(By Lorry A. Jacobs.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Newark, N. J.—Newark produced a real slapstick comedy a few days ago that was really a classic.

The players: Mrs. Anna Vreeland, Sidney Vreeland, age 6; Jerome Vreeland, age 17 months; neighbors, police, etc.

Scene: Mrs. Vreeland's' kitchen.

Props: A washboiler.

Mrs. Vreeland is discovered about her work in the kitchen. Jerome is playing on the floor beside the washboiler with his older brother, Sidney. Sidney looks at the washboiler and has an idea. He proceeds to execute the idea by putting Jerome in the washboiler and then sitting on the lid. Mrs. Vreeland goes out of the kitchen.

Jerome, hearing his mother returning, tries to take off the lid, but discovers that he has jammed the handle so that he can't budge it.

Shrieks from the baby and entrance of Mrs. Vreeland. Then follows efforts to get the cover off. They are unsuccessful and Sidney runs for the neighbors, police, etc.

Policeman enters kitchen, picks up washboiler, turns it over, and Jerome drops out laughing.

Mrs. Vreeland faints, and neighbors realize they have been witnessing a comedy instead of a tragedy.

SELECT NEW MINISTER OF LABOR IN BRITAIN

By United Press Leased Wire

London.—T. J. McNamara, M. RED ARROW MEN TO HOLD REUNION IN MILWAUKEE IN FALL

GENERAL MANGIN, COMMANDER TENTH FRENCH ARMY, MAY BE GUEST AT BIG MEETING

Milwaukee—The first annual reunion of the Thirty-second division, composed of men principally from Wisconsin and Michigan will be held in Milwaukee September 19, 20 and 21. Arrangements have been made to obtain the presence of General Joseph Mangin, commandr of the Tenth French army, who also directed the operations of the division at the battle of Juvigny.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the division held at the Plankinton hotel on Sunday, Col. R. B. McCoy, president of the division association, was instructed to communicate with General Haan at Washington, who will forward the invitation to General Mangin.

It is planned to make the general the joint guest of the division and the city of Milwaukee. In addition to Gen. Mangin, other men of prominence will be invited.

Preparations for the convention, which will be one of the largest ever held in Milwaukee, are being made by a committee headed by Col. Carl Penner and Frank Cleveland, convention secretary of the Association of Commerce. It is estimated that 20,000 of the 27,000 members will attend. Members of the division who reside in other states will be communicated with by Paul S. Clemens, secretary of the association.

The Michigan men were represented at the meeting on Sunday by Col. E. G. Hackel, Detroit; Col. Guy, M. Wilson, Flint, and Col. Howard M. Grube, Detroit. The Michigan men plan to be represented by a delegation of at least 10,000.

Any soldier who ever belonged to the division prior to April 8, 1919, is eligible to membership regardless of whether he served throughout the war with the division. It is also planned to make the nearest of kin of all of those men in the division who were killed during the war honorary members.

SIBERT'S DEMOTION STIRS WASHINGTON

GENERAL WHO OPPOSED SECRETARY BAKER AND GENERAL MARCH TRANSFERRED TO ATLANTA

Washington, D. C.—Army circles were stirred on Sunday by information that Maj. Gen. W. L. Sibert had been summarily relieved of his duties as chief of the chemical warfare service of the United States army and ordered to Atlanta to assume command of Camp Gordon.

In this sudden and unexpected shifting of Gen. Sibert, army men see a purpose to discipline him for his successful opposition to the plan of Secretary Baker and Gen. March, chief of staff, to abandon the chemical warfare service as a separate section of the army organization.

Gen. Sibert was sumomned before the congressional committee and stated convincingly his disagreement with the Baker-March program.

He demonstrated impressively the tremendous importance of the use of gas and other chemicals in the world war, and prophesied that it would have a decisive effect in future warfare.

For the effective and efficient development of the chemical warfare service, both offensive and defensive, it was imperative, he asserted, that it be maintained on a separate basis, similar to the signal and engineering corps.

The congressional committee, with practical unanimity, indorsed his views in framing the new army legislation.

Gen. Sibert, who, with Maj. Gen. Goethals, shares credit for construction of the Panama canal, was sent to France with Gen. Pershing in June, 1917, to command the First division.

Regular Habits Produce a Beautiful Complexion

Daily elimination rids the system of poisons. Women should realize that!

MANY women complain daily of their complexion, of their headaches and general ill health, little realizing that the trouble is constipation. Women, too, are much more subject to such congestion than men, and much more careless of it. The result is seen in lusterless, weary eyes, in sallow, pimply complexion, in lassitude, bad breath, and in that word so often used, "indisposed."

At the first sign of these symptoms the wise woman will take a laxative, and will see that the young girl and others in her care do likewise. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the favorite with thousands of women because it is mild and gentle in its action and in the end trains the stomach and bowel muscles to do their work naturally without the aid of medicine.

This combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, which can be bought at any drug store, is also a very sterling first-aid in colds, fevers and other sudden ills that make it advisable to always have a bottle in the home. It is free from narcotics and safe for the tiniest baby.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 511 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

DOCK WORKERS THREATEN GAY CUBA WITH COMPLETE TIE-UP—GAYETY OF RICH UNLIMITED.

(By Lee J. Smits.)
(Special to Post-Crescent.)

Havana.—Martial law is in force in this city and all efforts of the government to bring to terms the striking dock workers have been vain.

For weeks the general strike has been set for "tomorrow."

Information at the docks has been that in 24 hours not a wheel would be turning in Havana. Sympathetic strikes had been arranged and the center of the campaign was the ultimatum issued by employes of the Havana Electric Co., which operates the street railways. Taxi drivers were pledged to cooperate. This crisis was averted by the settlement offered by the company.

President Menocal's endeavor to settle the strike elicited only derision from the harbor workers.

The labor situation in Cuba may be no different, basically, than in the United States, but its manifestations are certainly more picturesque. Cuba supplied much of the sugar which was as essential as gunpowder in the great war. Enormous fortunes have been piled up in the past five years. Luxury and extravagance are displayed.

Almost at the very hour martial law was declared, a grand ball was being given in the new presidential palace for Senorita Georgina Menocal, daughter of the president and a debutant.

Touching each other in the same column of a Havana Sunday paper are these two bits of news.

"With a debutante in the presidential residence, this promises to eclipse all past Havana seasons in gayety."

"A condensed milk company complained yesterday that convicts who have been detailed to the Havana Docks Co. to unload condensed milk were being used to unload whisky."

With the cost of living, excepting the single item of fuel, as high for all classes as in the United States, it is significant to note that among the demands of common laborers was a minimum wage of $35 a month!

ITALY STARTS SIEGE TO STARVE OUT D'ANNUNZIO

Children in Fiume Will be Only Ones to Receive Food During Blockade of City by Italian Forces

Fiume.—A siege of Fiume has begun with a stringent blockade against commodities, including foodstuffs.

"Perhaps we may appear to be lenient toward those occupying Fiume," said Gen. Caviglia of the government forces today, "but it is not so. We shall exercise an iron blockade against the forces of Gabriele D'Annunzio. I am not offering them the slightest atom, but the children must be cared for. That is why I allowed 200 children to come out of Fiume and proceed to Milan."

Gabriele D'Annunzio has ordered another deportation of Croats and other foreigners who are "pernicious by their presence for the proper defense of the city." The Socialists also have been included in the general cleaning out of the city.

Public meetings and demonstrations of any sort not having the consent of the poet-soldier's police have been prohibited.

D'Annunzio's forces have been considerably diminished during the last week by desertions. This is especially noticeable among the officers. Efforts made to replenish the forces by conscriptions of Fiume citizens have been unsuccessful.

Business is stagnant. The port is empty, stores are doing little business and factories are idle. The hopelessness of the food situation tends to increase the hardships of all classes.

MAHMOUT STILL ALIVE AND MAY WRESTLE IN AMERICA

Bulgarian Wrestling Champion Reported Killed by People on Return From Turkish Army Asks Funds to Come to America

Dead or alive? At least a real mystery that even the rastling fans can't figure out has made its appearance. Just now there is much speculation on the statement given out by Emil Klank of Chicago, who says that he will produce the original Yousiff Mahmout, Bulgarian wrestler, in this country soon.

Mahmout visited the United States in 1912 and was ranked among the best grapplers in the game. Then he went back to his native land and was caught up in the whirlpool of death and war. Later press reports announced his death.

According to Billy Sandow, manager of "Strangler" Ed Lewis, a Bulgarian told him the account of Mahmout's death.

As the narrative goes Mahmout joined the Turkish army instead of those of his native land and served the sultan as an officer. When the war ended he returned home, but his people had turned against him.

A note was left under his door telling him to leave. He did not go. Soon after his head was found at the village gates affixed to a long pole.

Klank claims that he wrote to Mahmout's address since the war and received word in Mahmout's own handwriting asking for funds to come to this country. Klank has sent him money and expects his arrival in America soon.

MADE IN AMERICA TOYS ARE POPULAR

GERMAN SUPREMACY IN TOY INDUSTRY IS THING OF THE PAST, U. S. MANUFACTURER SAYS

By United Press Leased Wire

New York—More than $60,000,000 will be spent by the American public for toys in 1920, according to the prediction of Homer Stephens, president of the American Toy exhibitors, in commenting upon the recent births and rapid growth of the new industry in the country.

"The first attempt of American manufacturers to compete with the Germans in the making of dolls was nearly 18 years ago," Stephens said. "Since then our doll industry has grown until at the present time three of the American doll manufacturers make more dolls in one year than all the manufacturers of Germany ever made in the same length of time for importation to the United States.

"The old time phrase "Made in Germany" will soon be changed to "Made in America" because in all parts of the world people are now realizing America's supremacy in this new field. Big distributors in every country except Russia and Germany have visited our new toy factory here in New York and have made purchases.

"In 1911 about $10,000,000 worth of toys were imported from Germany, and about $125,000,000 were manufactured here. In 1920 we will sell $60,000,000 worth of toys, manufactured by Americans, in this country.

"Americans have just awakened to the fact that toys made in United States are not ornamentary like the old German toys but are constructive and educational—that is why America has given birth to and is rearing well its new found industry."

HEAVY TICKET DEMAND FOR YEATS' LECTURE

Tickets for the Yeats lecture are going rapidly. The interest in the visit of W. B. Yeats continues unabated, as is evidenced by the successful work of the Zeta Pi Sorority of Lawrence, which is selling the tickets.

Cathleen ni Houlihan is to be presented by Professor Orr's dramatic class at the open meeting of the English Club tonight in the old Chapel. No admission is being charged. Tickets for the Yeats lecture will be on sale at that time.

The publicity campaign in the college has aroused considerable comment and the principal topic of conversation on the campus is about the coming of Mr. Yeats.

A newspaper or sheet of paper tied to a window or balcony of a dwelling house in Mexico indicates that there are rooms to let in the house.

CAPT. PAT VAUGHN ENDS 20 YEARS OF SERVICE FOR CITY

ASSISTANT TO POLICE CHIEF PRIM ENTERED CITY SERVICE TWENTY YEARS AGO MARCH 1.

Twenty years of continuous service with the Appleton police and fire departments is the enviable record of Captain P. J. "Pat" Vaughn. "Pat" entered the service March 1, 1900.

Capt. P. J. Vaughn

twenty years ago yesterday.

With the exception of Sergeant James McCabe, Captain Vaughn is the oldest in point of service on the present force.

"Pat," as his host of friends know him, became a member of the fire department after successfully completing a civil service examination, and served until June 8, 1901, when he joined the police force as patrol driver. January 16, 1908, he was promoted to patrolman, and on October 14, 1913, he was advanced to captain, the position he now holds.

As captain, he ranks as assistant chief, and has full charge of the department when Chief Prim is absent or not on duty.

Changes during Captain Vaughn's time of service have been many, he said today.

"When I started there were only nine men on the force. The officers worked twelve hours at a time, one week days and the next nights. The station was at 631 Oneida street, and Fred Hoefer was the chief.

"In October, 1913, (the date of his promotion to captain) the department was reorganized, and the assistant chief dispensed with. A captain acted as assistant, or night chief.

"In 1914 the police station was moved to the Midway block, and later to 808 Washington street, the present location."

When Captain Vaughn first joined the force, the patrol driver worked almost continuously. Only two half days off a week were given, and night and day service was usual and not the exception. The five patrolmen on the force acted as day sergeants, each serving a week by rotation.

At present the department is composed of seventeen men, including three desk sergeants, who work in eight hour shifts.

"Twenty years ago," Captain Vaughn said, "the day men took care of traffic and entire College avenue. There were no cement sidewalks, only those of the wooden variety, and many a good pair of shoes was quickly worn out."

Wausau—The annual meeting of the Association of Wisconsin fairs will be held in this city Tuesday and Wednesday, Mar. 2 and 3. It is expected that every fair association in the state will be present. Among the subjects to be discussed will be cooperation and organization in conducting fairs, complimentary and other tickets, state and county aid, attractions, concessions, advertising fairs, speed department and care of race tracks, profitable use of the fair grounds between fairs, night fairs, premiums and premium lists.

ATTENDED THE FIRST AND LAST WOMAN SUFFRAGE CONVENTION

Racine, Wis.—"I attended the first national woman suffrage convention, in Washington in 1869. I had to come if they had to bring me in a wheelchair," said Dr. Olympia Brown, 85, Racine, who is spending the winter in Baltimore. She was ordained a Universalist minister in 1863. She was a minister in this city for years.

SOCIALISTS CONDEMN ANTI-SEDITION BILLS

A copy of the resolution will be sent to Wisconsin senators and representatives.

KAUKAUNA MAN WILL SELL ANCIENT RELICS

JOHN D. LAWE PLANS TO DISPOSE OF COLLECTION OF BOOKS AND HISTORIC DOCUMENTS.

Kaukauna, Wis.—John D. Lawe, this city, is to dispose of his entire collection, among which are books dating back to 1792. English law books of 1810-18; Blair's Sermons, 1805, once the property of Eleazer Williams, an Episcopal clergyman and missionary among the Indians, who claimed to be heir to the throne of France as the lost Dauphin; an English "Cookery Book," published in the eighteenth century; Milton's Paradise Lost, translated into the French by Lamartine, with 27 fine steel engravings, including that of Milton, Chateaubriand and Lamartine, and many other books.

There is the original land patent, measuring 17 by 24 inches, signed by President Andrew Jackson, written on parchment, the penmanship of which is so fine as to resemble steel engraving of the transfer by Paul DuCharme to Judge John Lawe, Green Bay, of the present site of the city of Kaukauna. Another, given by Col. Harry Eastman, Green Bay, to George W. Lawe, signed by President James K. Polk, of a tract adjacent to Kaukauna. This is also written on parchment. There are old account books and letters, showing the business carried on in the northwest between the fur-traders and Indians.

Mr. Lawe's collection contains curios and relics which have been in the family for more than a century.

FUND OF $75,000 FOR WAUSAU FAIR GROUNDS

Wausau, Wis.—The finance committee of the Marathon County Agricultural society is preparing to raise $75,000 for building a large new grandstand and stock-judging pavilion at the fair grounds. It is expected that a considerable sum will be donated by citizens interested in the fair and the county board will be asked to give annual aid to retire notes that may be issued. Merchants of the city are interested and will possibly erect an exhibition building for their use. Automobile dealers are being urged to arrange permanent quarters for an annual auto show.

MADISON NURSE HOME WITH CHINESE HONOR

Madison, Wis.—Miss Sarah Adlers, professional nurse, returned from Russia after serving nine months in Vladivostok. She wears a special decoration from the Chinese government for distinguished service in Harbin during the September cholera epidemic. After leaving China for Russia, she was in charge of the men's surgical department and was detailed to Vladivostok, where she remained during the revolution of Nov. 27, when the Socialist, Daida, and hundreds of his followers were captured by the Russians.

CLOSED SEASON FOR DEER MUSKRAT, MINK FAVORED

Madison—An almost unanimous accord with the petition for a closed season on deer, muskrat and mink was predicted by conservation commissioner W. F. Barker, speaking before the annual convention of the Racine county Rod and Gun club, from which he and Commissioner James Nevin returned yesterday. Hearings on the muskrat and mink rule will be held in every county in the state during the coming week, and in the twenty-eight counties where deer hunting is now permitted hearings will be called to see about closing the season. The commission will not be able to decide according to the law, until all those hearings have been held but it is not bound by the findings at any of them.

FRUIT GROWERS UNITE TO OBTAIN GATHERERS

Sturgeon Bay, Wis.—Hereafter fruit growers of the Door county peninsula will not have to worry about their individual picking problems. The obtaining of pickers to harvest the cherry and other fruit crops will be handled by a corporation, known as the Cherry Harvesting association. Fruit growers who are stockholders and members are relieved of the responsibility of engaging pickers. This organization will get thousands of pickers and manage and care for the large picking camps. H. W. Ullsperger, who holds a position with the soils department of the state agricultural college, is president of the association. He is one of the county's leading horticulturists, and has one of the best cared for orchards in these parts. The vice president is Alderman William E. Marshall, owner of Fairview fruit farm. The secretary and treasurer is Assemblyman Frank N. Graass, who is interested in and manages a large orchard.

ONE CHANGE IS MADE IN RAIL OPERATION

SWITCHING CREWS ARE DOUBLED UP TO COMPLY WITH EIGHT HOUR LAW—CANCEL EMBARGO

The railroads are now being operated by their respective owners and competition is again the order of the day. Instead of the business coming to the roads the companies now go after it and service is emphasized more than ever.

The only changes so far made in Appleton was the doubling up of switching crews which will no longer be permitted to work more than eight hours a day. The first crew of switch engine No. 97 works from 6 a. m. to 2 p. m., and the second crew from 2 p. m. to 10 p. m. The other switch engines which now have double crews is the one employed in the Kimberly yards and the one running between Appleton Junction and Kaukauna.

W. B. Basing, station agent of the Northwestern road, received notice Monday afternoon that eastern embargoes, with the exception of a few on New England shipping points had been cancelled. They applied to carload lots and greatly handicapped local paper manufacturers.

No changes were announced on the local branch of the Chicago-Milwaukee and St. Paul road.

MADISON TAX BOOST MAKES FOLKS PAY SLOWLY

Madison—Approximately $800,000 in taxes on city property, slightly more than half of the total assessed, has been paid to City Treasurer Moe. Most of the $550,000 still out is expected to be paid in two days. Mr. Moe believes the percentage of delinquents will not be much larger than other years. Taxes this year are considerably higher than the year before, which results in people putting off the "painful procedure" as long as possible.

PLEA FOR ELECTRIC RATE RAISE DENIED BY BOARD

Madison, Wis.—The railroad commission denied authority to the Badger Public Service Co. to increase its rates for commercial lighting supplied to the summer hotels at Elkhart lake. It authorized a minimum season charge for summer cottages of $10, payable May 15, such charge to allow the use of 77 kilowatt hours consumption without additional charge.

A graduated tax of from 1 to 30 per cent on all fortunes exceeding 10,000 crowns is contemplated by the Czecho-Slovak government. Further tax, ranging from 5 to 40 per cent, would be levied on gains in security values.

GRADE TEACHERS GET $132 TO $150 PER MONTH

Stevens Point—In response to a request made by the school superintendent of Detroit, Mich., eight graduates of the Stevens Point normal have been recommended for positions as graduate teachers at Detroit. They are guaranteed a monthly salary of $132 with a strong likelihood that this figure will be increased to $150 per month before the opening of the next school year in September. The salary offered, it is said, establishes a new high record for grade teachers' positions.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel.

The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble, and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel. Let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "logy" and "heavy." They "clear" clouded brain and "perk up" the spirits. 10c and 25c.

There is one safe, dependable treatment that relieves itching torture and that cleanses and soothes the skin.

Ask any druggist for a 35c or $1 bottle of Zemo and apply it as directed. Soon you will find that irritations, pimples, blackheads, eczema, blotches, ringworm and similar skin troubles will disappear.

Zemo, the penetrating, satisfying liquid, is all that is needed, for it banishes most skin eruptions, makes the skin soft, smooth and healthy.

Will that Boy of Yours "Make Good?

That boy of yours has great possibilities. The chief factor in his success is good health. The chief factor in good health is cleanliness inside.

Keep his mind keen and his physical force ever increasing through the proper elimination of waste matter and intestinal poisons from his system.

By an entirely new principle Nujol will keep the poisonous waste moving out of the body. Every other form of treatment either irritates or forces the system. Nujol works on the waste matter instead of on the system.

Nujol prevents constipation by keeping the food waste soft, thus helping Nature establish easy, thorough bowel evacuation at regular intervals—the healthiest habit in the world.

It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take—try it.

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only bearing NUJOL trade-mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, N. Y., for Booklet, "Thirty Feet of Danger."

The New Karo Maple

Delicious But Not Expensive

MANY housewives first try Karo Maple Flavor because it is economical.

They continue to use it because it is so delicious—made so by the delicate flavoring of pure maple sugar, added to the rich body of the famous, original Karo.

Karo's Maple Flavor is the most delightful spread for pancakes and waffles. Both children and grownups prefer it to any other table syrup.

Be sure to ask your grocer for Karo Maple in the Green Can. It is guaranteed to please you or your grocer returns your money.
